PRICE TWO CENTS

ELECTIONS HELD IN MANY STATES

Foss Claims 50,000 Majority in Massachusetts; Heavy Vote Is Cast

PROGRESSIVES ARE IN FIGHT

Ohio Vote Will Show Strength; Bryan Boosts La Follette; Wilson in Campaign

LEAD ELECTIONS

Foss Losing Ground

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Early returns from upstate towns and villages indicate that Foss is getting a smaller vote than he did last election. In some of the precincts he has suffered slight gains and has suffered losses in others. Walsh, candidate for lieutenant governor on the same ticket, is running slightly behind the head of the ticket.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 7.—There was fine, Indian summer weather today for the gubernatorial election. Both sides were still claiming victory this forenoon. Republican Chairman Hatfield claimed the stated for Louis A. Frothingham by 35,000 and Governor Eugene N. Foss said that he would be re-elected by 50,000.

Early indications were that the total vote would run to 450,000. It is conceded that the Boston vote will be the balance of power. Boston is normally democratic.

Test Progressive Strength

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 7.—A test of the progressive strength in Ohio is being made today in the non-partisan election of delegates to the constitutional convention which meets in January. The Ohio progressive constitutional league has high hopes of electing a majority of delegates pledged to the initiative and referendum and recall.

Close observers of municipal politics predict that Cleveland will elect as mayor, Newton D. Baker, present city solicitor, who would carry out Tom Johnson's policies; and Toledo, Brand Whitlock, who is fighting for three cent fares.

President Taft is in Cincinnati to give for the Cox ticket, headed by Mayor Louis Schwab, but supporters of Henry T. Hunt, county prosecutor and foe of Cox, expect Hunt to win. In Columbus, it appears possible that Alvah E. Eby, the socialist candidate, will defeat Mayor Marshall, republican and George J. Karb, democrat.

Election is Tame

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 7.—Elections to fill county offices and the judiciary are being held throughout Pennsylvania today but there is very little interest here. The principal feature of the campaign has been between the republican and Keystone candidates.

Wilson Enters Fight

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 7.—A test of Governor Wilson's strength in New Jersey is seen in today's elections in Trenton and Mercer counties, which are voting on three referendums in addition to a legislative and county ticket.

The democrats are not wholly confident of victory in these republican strongholds, but they are counting upon Governor Wilson's personal appeal to assist them materially. Republican leaders, on the other hand, are equally confident that the voters will repudiate Wilson.

Tammany is Accused

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—In spite of the dull, foggy weather all over the state, reports early today indicated that the voting would be heavy in the various judicial and assembly elections. In New York City an unusually large vote for an off year had been cast up to noon.

The greatest interest today centered in the judiciary election in Brooklyn in view of the charges that had been made that large sums of money were paid for nominations given out by Tammany.

Chicago Votes on Judges

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Chicago is voting today to elect ten superior court judges and one circuit judge. In addition to the election of judges, the city is also voting on two bond ordinances and two questions of the grain and stock markets were closed.

New Mexico Fight Hot

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 7.—Both republican and democratic territorial chairmen admit that the outcome of today's state election—the first in New Mexico's history—is uncertain. While the territory has normally been republican by about 5-10 per cent, the defection of progressive republicans and the bitter fight made against the republican candidates by the prohibition party has made it difficult to forecast the result. The multiplicity of candidates on state, judicial, legislative and county tickets and the blue ballot have all combined to add elements of uncertainty.

The democrats early claimed the election of McDonald for governor by about 2,000 asserting that the

TELLS STORY OF ITALIAN CRUELTY

War Correspondents Leave Tripoli Rather than Witness Horrible Atrocities

THEY ARE SHOT LIKE BEASTS

Women, Children, Crippled, Sick and Blind Are Massacred by the Soldiers

Battle Now Raging

TRIPOLI, Nov. 7.—Reinforced by the arrival of ships bringing fresh troops from Italy, the Italians undertook an advance at 7:45 a. m. today upon the Turkish forts surrounding the city. They are supported by a heavy fire from the Italian warships in the harbor.

BERLIN, Nov. 7.—Herr Gottberg, the Lokai Anzeiger's correspondent with General Caneva's Italian army in Tripoli, who with Francisco McCullagh, representing the New York World, and other correspondents, returned his papers to the Italian commander and left Tripoli rather than remain as a helpless witness of the brutalities he says the Italians are perpetrating there, telegraphed to his newspaper from Malta today considerably amplifying the horrible story told by McCullagh of the slaughter alleged to be in progress in the beleaguered city.

Following the Italian order to clear the oasis of its native population, Gottberg says, as did McCullagh, that the soldiers remorselessly chased men, women and children, the sick, crippled and blind, into the open and shot them like rabbits. No officer higher than a lieutenant, the correspondent asserts, was present during the butchery. General Caneva himself never even being seen where shooting was in progress. There was not a semblance of a court martial, Gottberg adds, nor did the private soldiers await orders from their officers before shooting down the wretched Arabs.

The correspondent refers to the specific instances of a wounded old woman and a sick girl and boy who were permitted by the Italian physicians to die of hunger and thirst in plain sight of hundreds of passing soldiers and officers. Gottberg says he knows personally that at least two persons—an Englishman and a German, called the physicians' special attention to the three sufferers and begged that something be done for them, but that the physicians refused the slightest aid.

General Caneva, Gottberg remarks, seeks to excuse the butchery on the ground that the Arabs had mutilated wounded Italians, but he points out that there is no evidence of women, children, the aged and the helpless having been guilty of such offenses.

HEALTH COMMITTEE MAY ASK BRIDGE

A recommendation that an overhead bridge be built from St. Francis hospital to the orphanage will doubtless be read at the next meeting according to the sentiment of the streets and alleys and health committees, which yesterday went out to look up the matter.

The committee took up the matter of the Fyatt fruit stand, which is built on the sidewalk at Third and Pearl streets, and they decided to hold this over.

The grading and the building of sidewalks in different parts of the city were taken up and the committee went out to look over the ground and see to what extent improvements would have to be made.

MRS. M'REA FREED

OPELOUSAS, La., Nov. 7.—For the first time since she was formally charged with the murder of Allan Garland, the young Tulane university student, regarding whose killing a jury could not agree, Mrs. Zoe Runge McRea today returned to her home here, having been admitted to bail in the sum of $5,000. The date for her second trial has not been set, but it is probable that it will be within the next three months.

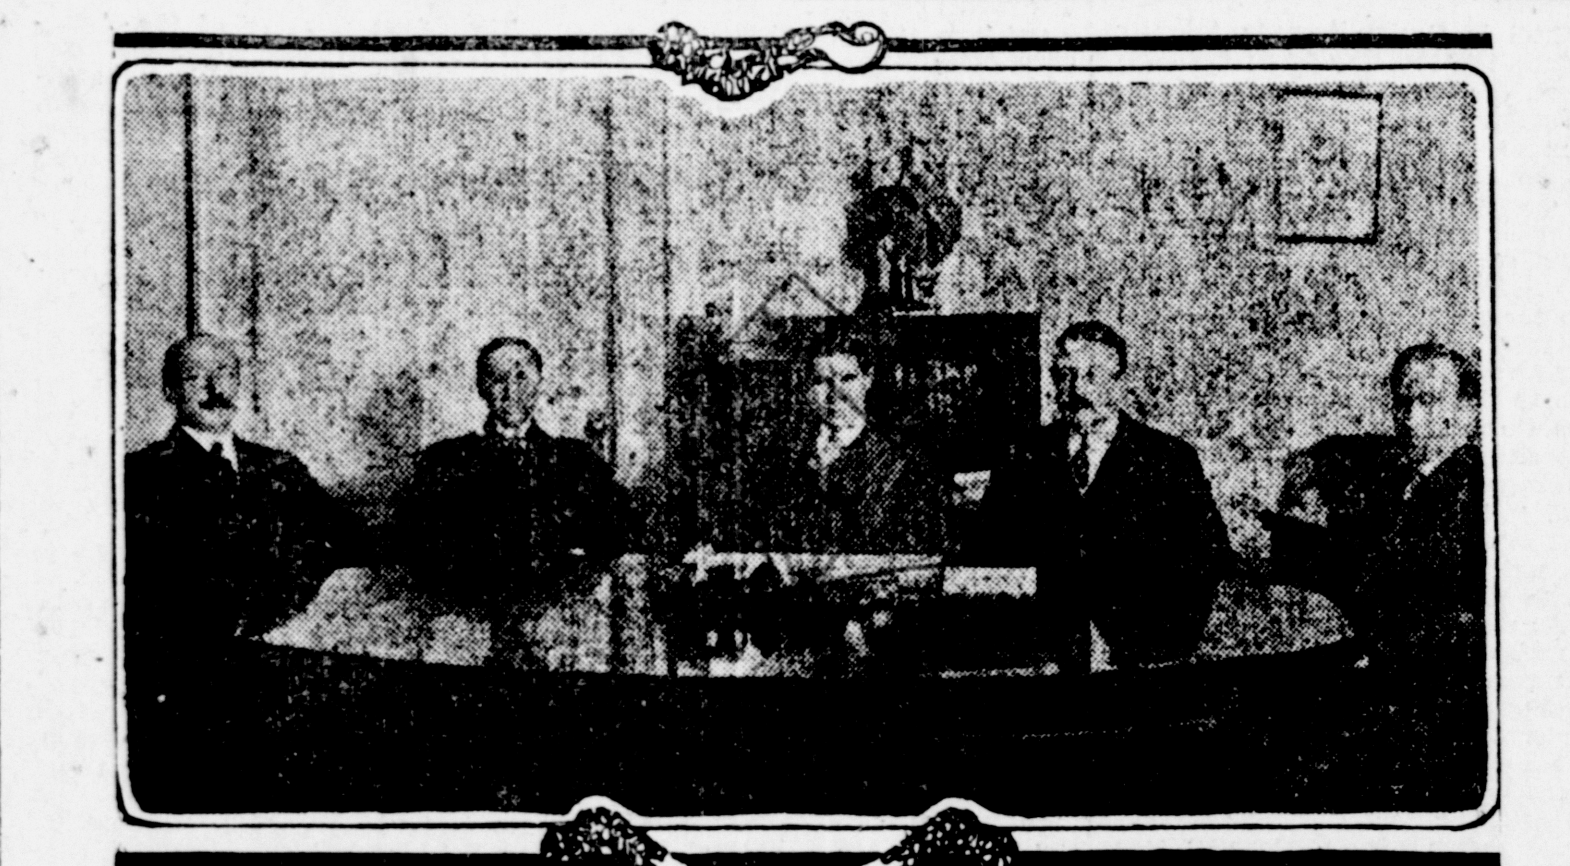

BOY HUNTER IS KILLED

WAUKESHA, Wis., Nov. 7.—Otto August Rader, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Orven Rader, town of Lisbon, is dead as the result of a rabbit hunt. With his 13 year old brother Harry he located a cotton-tail under a brush pile. The younger brother climbed on the pile and in the excitement he was shot and killed.

CUTS LEG IN DREAM

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 7.—Postmaster W. R. Gales, 42, of Kansas City, enroute in a Pullman car, from his home to Washington, gave a vicious kick while dreaming early today and ran his leg left through a window, severing an artery. The wound was dressed and he resumed this trip.

THE TARIFF BOARD

WASHINGTON, D. C.—When congress meets the first Monday in December the report of the tariff board on wool will be ready to submit to the president. The Ways and Means committee of the house can then begin the construction of a bill to revise in a scientific manner the schedule about which so much was heard during the last session.

The board is holding daily sessions in the Treasury Building where it receives reports from its agents in the field. These reports are being put into shape as recommendations to the president. Originally the board consisted of only three members but the president has recently appointed Mr. Page and Mr. Howard.

DEATH IS HIDDEN BY ROCKEFELLERS

Father of Oil Magnate Dead Over Year Without It Becoming Known

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 7.—The Cleveland Press today says: That William Rockefeller, father of John D. and Frank Rockefeller of Cleveland, and of William Rockefeller of New York, has been dead since a year ago last May, became known today through sources within the family.

It was the first word of that mysterious figure in the Rockefeller family since Ida Tarbell wrote her history of the Standard Oil and told a story of the elder Rockefeller's being a horse trader. In earlier years he had lived in Cleveland, and even after leaving that city was a familiar figure there once a year, when he made an annual visit.

After the Rockefeller family was attacked by Miss Tarbell, no member of it would say if he were living or dead, and if living, where. It was popularly supposed he had taken refuge on Frank Rockefeller's western ranch, where he was living the kind of an outdoor life he loved.

But Rockefeller was not in the west. He was living in New York state. At the time of his death he was close to 100 years old.

The same secrecy is now being maintained regarding his grave as surrounded his retreat in the latter years of his life. His body was taken by his sons William and Frank for interment. There are intimations that it lies near the graves of Frank Rockefeller's children, but it has been impossible to confirm this.

John D. Rockefeller is fearful that, should his location become known, the grave would be despoiled of the body by ghouls seeking to extort ransom. The family has decided that secrecy of location is better protection than guards or heavy marble vault.

REBELS BOTHER MADERO

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 7.—That President Madero will have immediate opportunity to manifest his ability in pulling down revolutions and preserving in Mexico the peace he promised was evident here today from the reports of the spread of the revolt in Chihuahua and Puebla. As Madero mounted the steps of Chapultepec castle today he was informed that the Chiapas revolution had spread to Yucatan. A few moments later he heard that the Zapatistas had again broken forth in Puebla but had been defeated by the federal troops there and that 5,000 of the clan were gathered at Villa Alpa.

GIRL LOST; MAN ARRESTED

RACINE, Wis., Nov. 7.—Joe Hubert, a mechanic, was arrested Monday evening and taken to South Milwaukee on the charge of abduction preferred by one J. Seeb, guardian of 17 year old Agnes Diabola, who claims the girl disappeared Monday morning after meeting her lover. Hubert claims he intended to marry the girl and had planned an elopement but he does not know her present whereabouts.

CUTLER MEETS IOWAN

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 7.—Charles Cutler, American champion wrestler, reached here from his Chicago home today and tonight will meet Jess Reimer, the Des Moines expert, for the American title at catch-as-catch-can. Both men will go on the mat at 212 pounds and Cutler says he thinks he can win in an hour. Sandy Griswold of Omaha, will referee, and the advance seat sale has been heavy to out of town sporting men.

MAINE REMAINS "DRY"

COUNTY OFFICE TO BE ABOLISHED

Office of Supervisor of Assessments of Monroe and La Crosse Counties to Be Merged

WORK TO INCLUDE INCOMES

Income Tax Law Instrumental in Eliminating Offices; Keizer or Brackett Will Lose Out

That Supervisor of Assessments Myron Brackett of Monroe county or Supervisor of Assessments J. E. Keizer, La Crosse county, will not be reappointed by the state tax commission and that one of the offices will be eliminated, is the declaration made by J. E. Keizer today.

"Following the enactment of the income tax law during the last session of the state legislature, the state tax commission announced that the office of supervisor of assessments in La Crosse and Monroe counties would be merged at the expiration of the term of the present officers and that one man would do the work for both counties in the future," said Mr. Keizer.

This change has also been announced for nearly every county in the state, and one man will be appointed to take care of two or more counties throughout.

"The duties of the supervisor of assessments hereafter will not only include his present duties of supervising assessments on real estate and personal property but will also include all assessments of incomes," declared Mr. Keizer.

Thus one of the offices will be eliminated and but one of the present office holders can be appointed.

Supervisor John Kindley of the board of equalization today asserted that the commission would not include the assessing of real estate property as part of the duties of the supervisor of assessments but would probably rely on the values placed by the state experts.

The appointment of supervisor of assessments for Monroe and La Crosse counties will be made by the state tax commission some time before the first of January.

HYDE TRIAL HELD BACK

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 7.—Unless the opposing sides in the second trial of Dr. B. Clarke Hyde for the murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swope get together in the near future and agree on some method of hastening the selection of an acceptable panel of forty-seven talesmen as required by the laws of this state, it is probable that the taking of evidence will not commence before December 1. Twenty-five temporary jurors were named this morning, when court reconvened the third week of the trial and the outlook for more rapid progress was far from good.

150,000 MINERS TO STRIKE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 7.—One hundred and fifty thousand coal miners in eastern Pennsylvania will strike on April 1, 1912, unless they are given a wage increase of twenty per cent, according to President John P. White of the United Mine Workers here today.

The increased cost of living and nine years without an increase in wages is given as the reason by the mine workers' president.

SNELLING BRIGADE POST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Fort Snelling, Minn., near St. Paul, will be made a brigade post, according to the plans of Major General Wood, announced today. It is not yet decided what regiments will be sent.

SNAP "HORRIBLE EXAMPLES"

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Suffragettes today went from poll to poll in New York City armed with cameras and taking pictures of "certain specimens" of manhood, who, they think are less inclined to vote than the majority of most women. "The horrible examples" will be used in future suffragette campaigns.

BOTTLE BEER GOES UP

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 7.—The advance in the price of beer which local breweries have had in mind affects the price of keg beer fifty cents a barrel, will also include bottled beer, according to information given out today. The rise, however, will be only ten cents a case and will have to be borne by the retailer.

CHINESE RULER IS ASSASSINATED

Manchu Soldiers Accused Wu Lu Chen of High Treason to the Throne

PEKIN REPORT IS FALSE

Capital Still in Hands of Imperialists; Nobles Commit Suicide in Fear of Rebels

SHANGHAI, Nov. 7.—Governor Wu Lu Chen of Shan Si Province, has been assassinated by Manchu soldiers, it is learned here today. The Manchus accused him of treason to the throne.

The governor was asleep in his tent at the encampment at Shikia-Chuang when killed. Thirty Manchu troops rushed the guards suddenly, dashed into the tent and cut the governor to pieces. In the meantime an alarm had been given, soldiers faithful to the governor surrounded the tent, and the assassins were caught to a man. They protested that Wu's professions of loyalty to the throne were false and that he was secretly urging a massacre of all the Manchus. The entire thirty will be beheaded.

Politically Wu's assassination was a capital mistake for the Manchus in two ways. It will enrage the rebels and it deprives the thrones of a true supporter. Wu was a revolutionist up to the time of the issuance of the imperial edict granting constitutional government to China. Wu Lu Chen favored acceptance of these concessions, believing they obviated the necessity for the dynasty's overthrow.

Work is Underway

Hoping that he might win the Shan Si rebel leaders over to his views, the emperor recently named him governor of the province and he had practically accomplished his mission when killed. By his assassination all the work that he had accomplished is undone. The revolutionists are convinced that no Manchus can be trusted, no matter what they may promise, and the efforts of Yuan Kai and others like him to save the dynasty are almost certainly rendered hopeless. The general opinion here is that Yuan's own fate will be sealed if he trusts himself among the Manchus at Pekin by going there to accept the premiership as the government is urging to do.

Yesterday's report that the capital had fallen into the rebels' hands seem to have rested on the fact that several Manchu nobles, facing the loss of their pensions and power, committed suicide, possibly by agreement among themselves. Rumors that the city had fallen were heard here yesterday and occasioned the wildest rejoicing among the revolutionists but today's messages speak only of the suicides, omitting all reference to any governmental overthrow.

American Standard Raised

European recruits are swarming to the standard raised by Robert R. Galley, the former football player of Princeton, now head of the Pekin Y. M. C. A., who has undertaken the organization of an Anglo-American company of unofficial police, and a far larger number than the twenty-five originally intended to make up the band, probably will be enlisted for service.

Joke Was on the Doctor

A doctor, who owns a fashionable house on the Heights, tells this joke on himself.

"I was awakened the other morning about 3 o'clock by the violent ringing of my doorbell. I got up, threw open the window and saw on the doorstep a man evidently under the influence of liquor, but very much excited.

"How much y' charge to go t' C'narsie?" he asked. "It's very important."

"Five dollars," I answered, thinking of the long ride and my lost sleep.

"All right," he said; "hurry up—5's very important."

"I hustled into my clothes, had the horse and carriage brought around to the front door, and started off with my inebriated caller. Finally we arrived at Canarsie, at the address he had given me. I drew up the horse, and woke the slumbering drunk.

"Here we are," I said.

"All right," was his answer. He put his hand into his pocket and drew out a roll of bills from which he peeled a five.

"Mus'ch 'bliged," said he. "They wanted t' charge me $12 at th' livery stable."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Getting Famous

Not long ago the king happened to be visiting at a country house near the scene of one of Cromwell's historic battles. Strolling out one day by himself, he met the village blacksmith returning from a shoeing expedition.

"I say, my good fellow," said his majesty, genially, "I understand there was a big battle fought somewhere about here?"

"Well—er," stammered the blacksmith, recognizing and saluting the king, "I did 'ave a round or two with Bill, the potman, but I didn't know your majesty had heard of it."—Tit-Bits.

REAL COMEDIAN AT THE MAJESTIC

Skillful Juggler Keeps the Audience in Roar of Laughter Last Night

"Phil la Goska, comedy talkative juggler," is the way he is billed. You can call him anything else if you want to but everyone who has attended the first half-week show at the Majestic proclaims LaGoska as the premier of entertainers.

Jokes roll out of him, some of which aren't exceptionally funny, but he injects a quantity of something into them that compels laughter. As a juggler he is skillful and there are no nerve racking suspenses so common to the average juggling act. He goes through his "stunt" without a stop and his work is good.

James Tony and Antoinette Norman, "That Natural Couple," are good and their singing and dancing was well received last night.

The Human Siver, as he is styled by all who have seen him, continues to make a hit. Absolutely the thinnest man ever to grace the boards at the Majestic he is an entertainer and dancer of rare ability. He is aided in his act by a clever little miss, whose presence alone adds much to the entertainment.

A clever acrobatic act is a feature secured by Mr. Koppelberger from Chicago. Some rare exhibitions of physical strength and masculine skill are given in this act.

GERMAN SOCIETY MEETS TONIGHT

First Gathering of New High School Organization to Be Marked by Fine Program

The first meeting of the "Germanistisches Gesellschaft" of the high school is to be held in the auditorium this evening when a program of interest to all has been arranged. Prof. J. F. Stuckert, who organized the society, has provided for a great many features which will make the meetings interesting as well as help the student in his study of German.

At the meeting this evening President William Luening of the school board has consented to make an address in German in which he will tell of the benefits of a society of this kind. Principal B. E. McCormick will give the opening address of the evening and he will speak on the importance of a German society.

Several excellent musical numbers are on the program and the boys' quartet, which was recently organized, is scheduled for sections. The quartet is composed of Harry Marshall, first tenor; Charles Shaw, second tenor; Ed Fox, first bass; Albert Weimar, second bass. They will sing two songs, "Ein Strausschen um Jost" and "Verlassen." Miss Della Hute and "Verlassen." Miss Della Hute is to sing a solo, "Trompeter von Sakkingen," and Louise McArthur and Louise Brown will play a violin duet. Jeanette Hankerson will render a piano solo.

Two declamations are to be given. Orlando Hanson having taken as his subject "Der Erikonig," and Zita Knothe will recite "Die Drei Indianer."

Following this part of the program the society will hold a business session when the organization of the club will be effected and German only will be spoken.

Posters depicting the German character and containing some German sayings have been put up on the walls of the school to arouse interest in the club. Those posters, which have been illustrated by students of the German department, are artistic in every respect and have occasioned much favorable comment.

OLD BUILDING ON CLIFFWOOD BURNED

A fire thought to have been set by hunters or children destroyed a building belonging to Peter Becken at Cliffwood Sunday evening, causing a loss of over $30. The fire was discovered at about 7 o'clock, but before any aid could reach the scene, the building was beyond saving. It was formerly used as a saloon and at the time of the fire was stored with hay. The building was not covered by insurance and will be a total loss.

DIES FROM BURNS

RICHLAND CENTER, Wis., Nov. 7.—Mrs. Martin McNamara, who was severely burned three weeks ago, died from the injuries, aged 48 years. Her clothes caught fire while she was burning rubbish.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

We Get a Slap

The big coffee trust, made up of Brazilian growers and American importers, has been trying various tactics to boost the price of coffee and get more money from the people.

Always the man who is trying to dig extra money out of the public pocket, on a combination, hates the man who blocks the game.

Now comes a plaintive bleat from the "exasperated" ones.

The Journal of Commerce lately said: "A stirring circular has just been issued to the coffee trade." The article further says:

"The coffee world is discussing what is to be the future of coffee as a result of the campaign of mis-education carried on by the cereal coffee people. We have before us a letter from one of the largest roasters in the South asking what can be done to counteract the work of the enemies of coffee.

"The matter should have been taken up by the Brazilian Gov't when they were completing their beautiful valorization scheme."

Then the article proceeds to denounce Postum and works into a fine frenzy, because we have published facts regarding the effect of coffee on some people.

The harrowing tale goes on.

"Where a few years ago everybody drank coffee, several cups a day, now we find in every walk in life people who imagine they cannot drink it. (The underscoring is ours.) Burly blacksmiths, carpenters, laborers and athletes have discontinued or cut down the use of coffee; as there is not a person who reads this and will not be able to find the same conditions existing among his own circle of acquaintances, is it not well for the Brazilians to sit up and take notice?"

Isn't it curious these "burly" strong men should pick out coffee to "imagine" about? Why not "imagine" that regular doses of whiskey are harmful, or daily slugs of morphine?

If "imagination" makes the caffeine in coffee clog the liver, depress the heart and steadily tear down the nervous system, bringing on one or more of the dozens of types of diseases which follow broken-down nervous systems, many people don't know it.

But it remained for the man who has coffee, morphine or whiskey to sell, to have the supreme nerve to say: "You only imagine your disorders. Keep on buying from me."

Let us continue to quote from his article.

"Notwithstanding the enormous increase in population during the past three years, coffee shows an appalling decrease in consumption."

Then follows a tiresome lot of statistics which wind up by showing a decrease of consumption in two years of, in round figures, two hundred million pounds.

Here we see the cause for the attacks on us and the Brazilian sneers at Americans who prefer to use a healthful, home-made breakfast drink and incidentally keep the money in America, rather than send the millions to Brazil and pay for an article that chemists class among the drugs and not among the foods.

Will the reader please remember we never announce that coffee "hurts all people."

Some persons seem to have excess vitality enough to use coffee, tobacco and whiskey for years and apparently be none the worse, but the number is small, and when a sensible man or woman finds an article acts harmfully they exercise some degree of intelligence by dropping it.

We quote again from the article:

"These figures are paralyzing but correct, being taken from Leech's statistics, recognized as the most reliable."

This is one of the highest compliments ever paid to the level-headed, common sense of Americans who cut off about two hundred million pounds of coffee when they found by actual experiment (in the majority of cases) that the subtle drug caffeine, in coffee, worked discomfort and varying forms of disease.

Some people haven't the character to stop a habit when they know it is killing them, but it is easy to shift from coffee to Postum for, when made according to directions, it comes to table a cup of beverage, seal brown color, which turns to rich golden brown when cream is added, and the taste is very like the milder grades of Old Gov't Java.

Postum is a veritable food drink and highly nourishing, containing all the parts of wheat carefully prepared to which is added about 10 per cent of New Orleans molasses, and that is absolutely all that Postum is made of.

Thousands of visitors to the pure food factories see the ingredients and how prepared. Every nook and corner is open for every visitor to carefully inspect. Crowds come daily and seem to enjoy it.

SOCIALISTS CONFER MAUSOLEUM DELAYED

CONFERENCE AT STEVENS POINT LAYS PLANS FOR THE COMING CAMPAIGN; PARTY DEBT WIPED OUT

STEVENS POINT, Wis., Nov. 7.—The socialist conference here referred the question of commission government for cities to the state executive board with instructions to report at the next state convention.

Resolutions were adopted commending socialist members of the legislature and Victor Berger in congress and thanking Miss E. H. Thomas, state secretary.

The course taken to bring the McNamara trial was denounced and congress was urged to pass laws affording legal protection to accused workmen. A telegram was sent to Job Harriman congratulatory of the socialist gains in Los Angeles.

The conference urged increased agitation among women and recommended that a committee be appointed by every branch to interest women. It was pointed out that suffrage is a party proposition and the enfranchisement proposition can count on nearly 40,000 socialist votes in the referendum. Mr. Berger will introduce in congress a resolution for national enfranchisement.

The conference did not undertake any constitutional revision, delegating that work to a committee composed of E. H. Melms, F. J. Weber, John Doerfler, Jr., Carl Minkley and E. H. Thomas.

The report of the state executive board showed that donations by members have wiped out the party debt.

County organizations will be carried forward by the appointment of a committee in every township.

HAMMOND, Ind.—When friends and relatives called at the home of A. Aubrey to help him and Mrs. Aubrey celebrate their golden wedding anniversary, they found the couple dead from asphyxiation.

WORK ON OAK GROVE STRUCTURE STOPPED BY LACK OF MATERIAL; TO BE FINISHED SOON

The work on the new mausoleum which is to be erected in the Oak Grove cemetery has been delayed through lack of material. Tracks have been laid from the grounds to the Green Bay tracks on Eighteenth street but several car loads of material to be used in the construction which were due to arrive nearly two weeks ago have failed to come.

Mr. Rose, secretary of the People's Mausoleum association today said that if the material is not delayed in arriving after the work is well under way, the mausoleum had ought to be complete within four months and ready for use by June.

"The construction of the mausoleum will be one of the most interesting pieces of work in concrete in this city and after the work is started, great interest will doubtless be shown in the erection by the people of La Crosse," said Mr. Rose.

Several changes have been made in the plans and a few minor changes still remain to be made. However, the final plans will be accepted within a few weeks.

Doctors Said He Would Die

A Friend's Advice Saves Life

I wish to speak of the wonderful cure that I have received from your noted Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder cure. Last summer I was taken with severe pains in my back and sides. I could not breathe without difficulty. I tried all the different doctors from far and near, but they said it was no use to doctor as I would die anyway. I was at the end of my rope and was so miserable with pain and the thought that I must die that words cannot tell how I felt. One day a friend told me of the wonderful help she had received from Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. She gave me one of your pamphlets which I read and determined to try Swamp-Root. After taking half a bottle I felt better. Have now taken ten bottles and am well as I ever was, thanks to Swamp-Root. I wish to tell all suffering people that have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is the best medicine on the market.

All persons doubting this statement can write to me and I will answer them directly.

Yours very truly,

The PRODIGAL JUDGE

The Famous Novel by VAUGHAN KESTER

Copyright, 1911, The Hobbs-Merrill Company

Again Bunker swore, while Jim told Slosson to make haste. This popular clamor served to recall the tavern-keeper to a sense of duty.

"Ma'am, like I should tote you, or will you walk?" he inquired, and reaching out his hand took hold of Betty.

"I'll walk," said the girl quickly, shrinking from the contact.

"Keep close at my heels, Bunker, you tuck along after her with the boy."

"What about this nigger?" asked the fourth man.

"Fetch him along with us," said Slosson. They turned from the road while he was speaking and entered a narrow path that led off through the woods, apparently in the direction of the river. A moment later Betty heard the carriage drive away. They went onward in silence for a little time, when Slosson spoke over his shoulder.

"Yes, ma'am, I've riz ten children, but none of 'em was like him—I trained 'em up to the minute!" Mr. Slosson seemed to have passed completely under the spell of his domestic recollections, for he continued with just a touch of reminiscent sadness in his tone. "There was all told four Mrs. Slossons; two of them was South Carolinians, one was from Georgia, and the last was a widow lady out of east Tennessee. She'd buried three husbands, and I figured we could start perfectly even."

The intrinsic fairness of this start made its strong appeal. Mr. Slosson dwelt upon it with satisfaction. "She had three to her credit. I had three to mine; neither could crow none over the other."

As they stumbled forward through the thick obscurity he continued his personal revelations, the present enterprise having roused whatever there was of sentiment slumbering in his soul. At last they came out on a wide bayou; a white mist hung above it, and on the low shore leaf and branch were dripping with the night dews. Keeping close to the water's edge Slosson led the way to a point where a skiff was drawn up on the bank.

"Step in, ma'am," he said, when he had launched it.

"I will go no farther!" said Betty, in desperation. She felt an overwhelming fear, the full horror of the unknown lay hold of her, and she gave a piercing cry for help. Slosson swung about on his heel and seized her. For a moment she struggled to escape, but the man's big hand pinioned her.

"No more of that!" he warned, then he recovered himself and laughed. "You could yell till you was black in the face, ma'am, and there'd be no one to hear you."

"Where are you taking me?" Betty's voice faltered between the sudden sobs that choked her.

"Just across to George Hick's."

"For what purpose?"

"You'll know in plenty of time."

And Slosson leered at her through the darkness.

"Hannibal is to go with me?" asked Betty tremulously.

"Sure!" agreed Slosson affably. "Your nigger, too—quite a party."

Betty stepped into the skiff. She felt her hopes quicken—she was thinking of Bess—whatever the girl's motives, she had wished her to escape. She would wish it now more than ever since the very thing she had striven to prevent had happened. Slosson seated himself and took up the oars. Bunker followed with Hannibal and they pushed off. No word was spoken until they disembarked on the opposite shore, when Slosson addressed Bunker.

"I reckon I can manage that young rip-staved; you go back after Sherrod and the nigger," he said.

He conducted his captives up a bank and they entered a clearing. Looking across this Betty saw where a cabin window framed a single square of light. They advanced toward this and presently the dark outline of the cabin itself became distinguishable. A moment later Slosson paused, a door yielded to his hand, and Betty and the boy were thrust into the room where Murrell had held his conference with Fentress and Ware. The two women were now its only occupants, and the mother, gross and shapeless, turned an expressionless face on the intruders; but the daughter shrank into the shadow, her burning glance fixed on Betty.

"Here's yo' guests, old lady," said Slosson. Mrs. Hicks rose from the three-legged stool on which she was sitting.

"Hand me the candle, Bess," she ordered.

At one side of the room was a steep flight of stairs which gave access to the loft overhead. Mrs. Hicks, by a gesture, signified that Betty and Hannibal were to ascend these stairs; they did so and found themselves on a narrow landing inclosed by a partition of rough planks; this partition was pierced by a low door. Mrs. Hicks, who had followed close at their heels, handed the candle to Betty.

"In yonder," she said briefly, nodding toward the door.

"Wait!" cried Betty in a whisper. "No," said the woman with an almost masculine surliness of tone. "I got nothing to say." She pushed them into the attic, and closing the door, fastened it with a stout wooden bar.

Beyond that door, which seemed to have closed on every hope, Betty held the tallow dip aloft, and by its uncertain and flickering light surveyed her prison. The briefest glance sufficed. The room contained two shake-down beds and a stool; there was a window in the gable, but a piece of heavy plank was spiked before it.

"Miss Betty, don't you be scared," whispered Hannibal. "When the judge hears we're gone, him and Mr. Mahaffy will try to find us. They'll go right off to Belle Plain—the judge is always wanting to do that, only Mr. Mahaffy never lets him—but now he won't be able to stop him."

"Oh, Hannibal, Hannibal, what can he do there—what can any one do there?" And a dead pallor overspread the girl's face. To speak of the blind groping of her friends but served to fix the horror of their situation in her mind.

"I don't know, Miss Betty, but the judge is always thinking of things to do; seems like they was mostly things no one else would ever think of."

Betty had placed the candle on the stool and seated herself on one of the beds. There was a murmur of voices in the room below; she wondered if her fate was under consideration and what that fate was to be. Hannibal, who had been examining the window, returned to her side.

"Miss Betty, if we could just get out of this loft we could steal their skiff and row down to the river; I reckon they got just the one boat; the only way they could get to us would be to swim out, and if they done that we could pound 'em over the head with the oars—the least littlin' sinks you when in the water." But this murderous fancy of his failed to interest Betty.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

In the barley a wind began; Over their levels of gold it ran: Plunged into them, And furrowed through them, Foamy channels the height of a man. Deep in the dark it dipped and shined, And spoke like a vision to all the blind;

Eye not knowing, The law of the flowing, Real as water flowing the wind. I was a child and it seemed to me A hilltop river set rolling free; As it was ever The way of a river, Somewhere a well-head—somewhere a sea!

Through flexile banks the unbodied stream Poured its life and mine in a dream. Currents nameless, Measureless, tameless, Clave me, too, with rustle and gleam. If I come back to the fields today With storm in a time-worn heart, I pray

The sun to sift it, The wind to lift it, The barley floods to wash it away: For here would I lie on the long-loved ground, Seeing one sight and hearing one sound,

No strife to wake me, No doom to o'ertake me, In that sweet harvest happily drowned.

—Louise Imogen Guiney in McClure's.

AVOID HARSH DRUGS

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt, soothing, and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredients is odorless, tasteless, and colorless. Combined with other well-known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge, or cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons, and aged people, as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in three size packages, 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store, O. T. Erhart.

NEW YORK CITY.—On December 2nd Miss Mildred Sherman will be the central figure in another international marriage when she is united to Lord Camoys. In order to be in ample time the Lord has already secured his license and a peculiarity was that Miss Sherman did not appear at the window of the license bureau as is now invariably required of all applicants for marriage. Just what the Lord's system was for getting around this rather embarrassing detail for the society girl is not known. It is possible that she will later appear in her own behalf.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Indispensable to the housewife who takes pride in her baking

With no other baking powder can biscuit, cake and hot-breads be made so pure, healthful and delicious

The only Baking Powder Made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar—made from grapes—

Needless Hurry
Theatrical folk love to tell of a western manager now prominent in the business who made fame and fortune as proprietor of a small variety house in San Francisco.

The thrifty German had accumulated considerable money and was about to open a new theater. Several hours before the first performance the entrance was packed and the manager in trying to reach the front door became hopelessly imprisoned in the crush.

"Here, here," he yelled, "peeples, peeples, it's me—it's Mr. Warner!"

As no one appeared to take any notice of him he again yelled at the top of his voice:

"Vat's a minute, peep

NO INDIGESTION OR SICK STOMACH

Heartburn, Gas, Sourness, and Dyspepsia ended in five minutes with
Pape's Diapepsin

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach—or maybe you call it indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas, or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapepsin.

BURNS SAYS HELENE KNABE KILLED SELF

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 7.—William J. Burns, the celebrated detective, now here in connection with the federal investigation of the McNamara dynamiting cases, today announced, after making a study of the case, that he believed Dr. Helene Knabe, whose death mystery has baffled the Indianapolis police for three weeks, committed suicide and was not murdered. Reversing the woman physician met in her profession are put forward as the cause by the detective. The self-assertive character of the woman would explain why she chose to die by cutting her throat, instead of an easier way, thinks Burns.

NORTH SIDE NEWS

TRAMPS LOCATE IN SWITCH TOWER

Authorities Asked to Rout
Gang of Hobos Who Are Holding Stronghold

Alarmed by the presence of tramps in an abandoned switch tower in the yards of the road at Grand Crossing, local officials of the Milwaukee road today announced that they would immediately take steps to have the police rout them out. A band of six or seven hobos has been using the tower as a lodging house for several weeks, and have been building fires inside of it. The officials are afraid that a disastrous fire may result from their carelessness if they are not evicted.

Several weeks ago switchmen in the yards of the road were laid off, and the tower was abandoned. The precaution of locking the doors and windows was neglected, and the tramps discovered the omission within a few days. A band of them settled in the disused tower, and have been holding high revel there recently. The officials fear that they will not confine themselves to living in the company's property, but will take to making depredations on the freight passing through.

NORTH SIDE WOMAN DIES AT HOME TODAY

Her Father an Authority.

Little Nellie told smaller Anita what she termed a "little fib."

Anita—A fib is the same as a story, and a story is the same as a lie.

Nelly—No, it's not.

Anita—Yes it is, because my father said so, and my father is a professor at the university and he knows.

Nelly—I don't care if he is. My father is a real estate man, and he knows more about lying in a minute than your father does in a week!

WELTERWEIGHTS TO MEET NOVEMBER 22

Judy Jurgenson, welterweight wrestler of the north side, and George Carroll, welterweight, West Salem, will meet in Bangor November 22, to decide the question of superiority which was left open at their last meeting when they wrestled an hour and seventeen minutes to a draw in a preliminary bout at the recent Sampson-Muldoon match.

Judy has been practicing assiduously ever since he failed to throw the West Salem lad at their last meeting, and has shown marked improvement in form. He is in the best of training and is keeping in condition by daily workouts. He has expressed his confidence that he will be able to dispose of the West Salem lad with no trouble.

Ireland Is The Home of Romance—the very atmosphere is charged with it, while the people draw it in with the air they breathe. The mirrored surfaces of their blue lakes, nestled between rugged little mountains, with their scattered islands clad in softly massed arbutus, all seem made for romance. And the people themselves, with their warm and generous hearts, seem intended by nature to be the actors in the stories which so greatly delight the rest of the world. And of all the romances of Ireland perhaps the one which gets closest to the hearts of people is the simple story of the Colleen Bawn, a life story which was almost a tragedy. The story of the Colleen Bawn, which is quite familiar, has been produced in Motion Pictures with the beautiful scenery of the Killarney Lake region as a setting, every scene in the three full reels of film was taken in Ireland. This delightful production—lasting nearly an hour—will be shown at the Bijou today, and to thoroughly enjoy this photoplay it is well to be present at the beginning of a performance, at 7:00, 7:50, 8:40 and 9:30 this evening. These pictures will be presented with special music.

ST. LOUIS VOTES ON BRIDGE QUESTION

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 7.—Missouri holds no election of statewide interest this year, but the question of the free bridge across the Mississippi was of vital importance to every St. Louis voter today. Three bridges already span the Father of Waters, and the city of St. Louis began and partly completed another. This was to have been a "free" bridge—the others being privately owned toll bridges. Funds gave out and the voters today had to decide whether the $2,250,000 necessary to complete the structure should be raised by bonds or not. It is believed the bonds would be voted.

GRAND JURY TAKES UP McNAMARA CASE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 7.—With an investigation into the dynamiting charges involving John J. and James B. McNamara as the most important task confronting it, the United States grand jury met here today.

In case the decision of the Indiana court gives the books and documents of the iron workers to the United States authorities to be used in the investigation, District Attorney Miller today, for the first time, publicly asserted that he would give the matter to the California authorities in case they demanded it for an investigation.

Labor leaders assert that this is the plan by which the California authorities hope to secure the alleged evidence for use in the trials there—to have the federal officials here to send the material to the federal officials in California, under the guise of a federal investigation there and then have the local officials in California petition for it.

GRAIN TRADE FEARS A FEDERAL PROBE

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Grain traders were rather relieved that the market was closed today on account of the election, because they feared some reflection in wheat prices of the crop of rumors concerning the operations of T. J. Lichtstern. Brokers were taken aback by the report today that Lichtstern had coolly turned down an offer of $4,643,750 cash for his wheat holdings—reported to be close to the five million bushel mark—because he wanted 7.5 of a cent more per bushel. They were at a loss to account for this refusal, in view of a declining market and persistent rumors that Lichtstern and others connected with him were likely to run afoul of federal interference in their alleged corner. The offer which Lichtstern is said to have refused was said to have included a proposition to reimburse the broker for any losses occasioned by possible federal prosecution.

ENGLISH MONEY DOWN SOUTH

Being Invested to Large Extent in Railroad and Industrial Enterprises.

For several years prior to the Baring failure English capital was being invested to a very large extent in southern railroad and industrial enterprises. At the time of the Baring collapse many negotiations were under way in England, with good prospects of success, for other large investments in the purchase of mineral and timber properties, in the building of railroads and in various undertakings looking to broad development of southern resources.

Following that failure, and the collapse of business and financial interests in this country with the panic of 1893 and the free silver agitation of the next few years, English capital sought other channels for investment. This condition has existed for nearly twenty years, but now there is a marked revival of interest on the part of English capital in southern investments.

Within the last few months English cotton manufacturers have put $3,000,000 into the purchase of cotton lands in Mississippi and $6,000,000 into a great irrigation enterprise in Texas. Negotiations are now under way in England for the financing of some large water power enterprises and a number of other undertakings, the carrying out of which would prove of very great value to the south.

ELECTRIC HOTEL FOR PARIS

Current Will Do Everything in the Proposed Structure Except Pay Guest's Bill.

The interesting news comes from Paris that a hotel will be built there in which all the domestic service will be performed by electricity. If the promoters of the scheme keep their promises, everything will be done by electricity except the guests' payment of their bills. Even then they can give the cashier a shock by refusing to pay.

There will be no waiters, no bell boys, no coat boys, no chambermaids, and consequently no tips. If a guest arrives home at 3 a. m. all he will have to do is to touch a button, which will turn an electric sun, and then he can say to his wife:

"My dear, you're really getting lazy. Look at me. I'm up and dressed."

If he feels that he needs a cocktail, he can touch another button. One touch brings a martini, two whiskeys, three a Manhattan, four vermouths, five an ambulance. In answer, a dumb waiter brings through the floor either the desired bracer, or, when need be, to lower the guest to the ambulance.

The hotel promoters lay much stress on the fact that all their waiters are dumb. In place of the ordinary Swiss who only stand and wait, instead of running and serving, there will be automatons run by electricity and guaranteed not to spill soup down your back or creamed asparagus in your lap. The dining table will be decorated with flowers raised by intensive electrical culture in both winter and summer, for there will be no seasons in this hotel; push a button and you're warmer than when you see another fellow walking with the "only fear one on earth," push another button and you're colder than when the other fellow frigidly asks, "What the devil are you doing here?"

One of the features of the hotel will be an electric orchestra, in which all kinds of stringed instruments will appear as part of their own accord.

The inventor, a Frenchman named Georgia Knap, who has spent years experimenting with the various devices, asserts that they are now all absolutely perfect, and has formed a company under the name "Societe des Hotels Electriques" for the purpose of building electric hotels in every big city throughout the world.—New York World.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THERE WAS O'E TOO MANY

Farmer Suspicious of Literary Man's Methods of Rearing Children.

The following is told at the expense of a New York literary man, into whose family a fifth child came last summer.

The family were at their country house in the north of the state, and for a time much of the care of the other four children devolved upon the father, who entertains some Spartan notions touching the rearing of his sons.

One morning he carried his three-year-old to the creek near his home, to give him a cold plunge. The lad objected vigorously to this proceeding, but was firmly held and ducked, despite his protests.

Just as the father was "sending in" the youngster for the second time, a powerful hand stayed him, and he found himself in the grasp of a fat farmer, a neighbor of his, who began to roar at him in this wise:

"None o' that! None o' that, or I'll hand you over to the law!"

It consumed the better part of half an hour to convince the farmer that no attempt was being made to drown the child. Even at the end, the brawny tiller of the soil was not entirely convinced, for he kept shaking his head doubtfully and murmuring:

"I dunno about that, I dunno. You got four besides this."—Lippincott's.

How England Grows.

A great deal of interest is taken in England in the question of coast protection. The ocean, assailing the cliffs, gradually tears them away, but this very process furnishes a defense for the land by building up long beaches of sand and shingle which arrest the waves before they can attack the cliffs.

An effort is making to prevent or better regulate the removal of this material for construction and road building, because in many places its removal has permitted the sea freely to exert its power of erosion.

The Ordnance Survey has ascertained that in the last thirty-five years England has lost 6,000 acres by sea erosion, and gained 48,000 acres through reclaiming land the existence of which is mainly due to material brought down by the rivers.—From the Youth's Companion.

How to Change Your Face

(From Fashion Review.)

The painful, dangerous and expensive operation known as "face-peeling" is not necessary to accomplish the results sought. One can gradually and safely remove the old and unattractive cuticle from her face without pain, danger or detention indoors. Simply use ordinary mercurized wax, which can be obtained at any drug store. Apply it for a few nights like cold cream and wash it off each morning. The mercurized wax slowly absorbs the half-dead outer skin, which flakes off day by day in fine, invisible particles.

The fresh young skin underneath soon blooms forth radiantly, making the face look years younger and much prettier. Employment of this process is not noticeable to others, except that your complexion improves rapidly.

Of course, the removal of the surface skin in this pleasant manner, takes with it all facial blemishes, such as chaps, freckles, moth patches, liver spots, fine wrinkles, pimples, etc. Mercurized wax has been known for years to many society women noted for their beautiful and lasting complexions.

WAR VETERAN IS MOVED TO TEARS

Bitter Arraignment by the Prosecution in McNamara Case Causes Dramatic Scene

DEFENSE IS DISCOURAGED

Alleged Unfairness of Judge Bordwell Causes Bitter Feeling Among the Attorneys

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 7.—That sensational developments in the McNamara case are imminent was indicated by the attitude of the court and attorneys when the trial was resumed today.

The defense is extremely exercised over the wide latitude permitted by Judge Bordwell to the deputy district attorney in trying to eliminate George W. Morton, an aged civil war veteran, whose only offense admitted by the state was that he read the Los Angeles Record and Appeal to Reason, and had deserted the republican party because he believed it a "party of capitalists," and "now thought" he was a socialist.

Attorney Darrow and his associates are also disappointed because affidavits signed by four persons against Juror George W. McKee, forced on the defense by the ruling of the court that he is eligible for jury duty, failed to cause Judge Bordwell to excuse McKee for cause.

The defense had no hope when court convened today of saving a peremptory challenge against McKee. Judge Bordwell, in deciding the original challenge against that veteran, ruled that McKee's simple statement that he would disregard his belief that the Times building was dynamited and try the accused on the evidence alone, and the law laid down by the court had made him an impartial juror.

In the four affidavits the defense's witnesses swore positively that McKee frequently expressed to them the opinion that the McNamaras were guilty and that they should be hanged.

When court reconvened today, Talesman Morton was still on the stand under interrogation by Horton. He is a veteran of the civil war, 75 years old, and for twenty-eight years conducted a general store and was postmaster of a village near Pueblo, Col.

He is a fine appearing old man. He says he earns a living "raising a few chickens," but Horton submitted him to a most bitter arraignment. The climax was finally reached when, after he had admitted he was a socialist, the old man with tears streaming down his cheeks, raised himself in his seat and fairly shouted his answer to the question if he did not oppose the government: "You ask me that—a veteran of the rebellion, who fought to save the union? No, I love the government and strive to uphold it."

Late yesterday there was a bitter scene between Attorney LeCompte Davis of the defense, and the court, over the manner in which Horton was questioning Morton.

STRECKFUS LINE TO QUIT BOAT WAR

Frightened out, apparently by the threats of the Lee line of steamboats on the lower river, to invade the upper river, exclusive territory of the Streckfus line, the latter has announced the abandonment of its project of running boats on the lower Mississippi river during the winter.

The Streckfus line boats have made three round trips between St. Louis and New Orleans. The officials of the company give as the reason for dropping this service the statement that each trip was made at a considerable loss. Rivermen, however, scout this theory as being only a graceful method of backing down on the part of the company. They claim that the threats of the Lee line, which operates between St. Louis and New Orleans, to invade the northern territory, is responsible for the abandonment of the service.

The Streckfus company will make one more trip into the waters controlled by the competing Lee line, when one or more boats of the company will leave St. Louis for New Orleans with passengers for the Mardi Gras celebration in the city at the mouth of the river. It is expected that this trip will be made about February 15.

U. S. BONDS IN DEMAND

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The contention of New York bankers that depositors of postal savings banks, who convert their savings into bonds, are forced to accept a heavy loss on their investment or hold the bonds until the government chooses to redeem them, was not treated seriously by postoffice officials here today. The department holds that the majority of the purchasers of postal savings bonds prefer to invest with the government's protection and guarantee of 2½ percent interest and expect to wait until the bonds reach maturity for their redemption.

SUPERVISORS WAR OVER COUNTY TAX

Keppel and Kindley Are Leaders in Fight Over Equalization of Keizer's Figures

War on the acceptance of the report of Supervisor of Assessments J. E. Keizer for the year of 1911 was continued in the committee chamber at the court house this morning when the seven members of the board of equalization headed by Supervisor Val Keppel for the acceptance and John Kindley for non-acceptance discussed the values and presented arguments. At press time the arguments still flowed freely and members of each side were as far from reaching an agreement as at the opening of the meeting yesterday afternoon.

Supervisor Keppel in support of the report declared that Mr. Keizer, when placing his values, was not juggling figures to make the values coincide with his private opinions and that there is not a man in the county of La Crosse who is more competent to place values than is Mr. Keizer.

Five Per Cent Splits Board
The main question of discussion upon which the members of the board disagree is that Mr. Keizer has placed the value of real estate in the city of La Crosse at par, while last year it was placed at ninety-five per cent.

In so doing Mr. Keizer says he is following the instructions of the state tax commission. Mr. Kindley holds that as the property of La Crosse county has not actually increased five per cent, the valuations should not be advanced that amount while Mr. Keppel supports the report of the supervisor of assessments.

The valuations set by Mr. Keizer are almost the same as those set by the experts of the state tax commission.

ELECTIONS HELD IN MANY STATES

American vote, will be cast against H. O. Bursum, the republican candidate, who is of Spanish descent. The republicans insist Bursum will pull through by a comfortable plurality. They are claiming the legislature overwhelmingly.

Bryan Boosts La Follette
LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 7.—William J. Bryan's powers of oratorical persuasiveness are being put to a test in today's Nebraska election.

Bryan has been stamping the state, urging republican progressives to vote the democratic state ticket in order to rebuke the Taft administration. Incidentally Bryan has been saying an occasional good word for La Follette, Governor Aldrich, who is an avowed La Follette man, has been exhorting the progressives to remain loyal and support the republican ticket.

Three judges of the state supreme court, one congressman, two state university regents and officers in every county are the political state involved.

Weather conditions are ideal in every section of the state.

Women Can't Vote
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 7.—San Francisco and Sacramento today are electing municipal officers. The election here was deprived of much of its local interest by the fact that James Rolph, Jr., was declared elected mayor when he received a majority of the vote at the recent primaries. Mayor McCarthy, whom Rolph, defeated, hoped to retain control of the supervisors, elected today.

Gorman Running Ahead
BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 7.—The chief interest in today's elections in Maryland centered in the congressional race and the selection of the members of the legislature. Arthur P. Gorman, son of the late United States senate leader, is the democratic candidate, opposed by Phillips L. Lee Goldsboro, former surveyor of the port of Baltimore, for the republicans. Indications at noon were that the democrats would be victorious.

MAN DIES IN CELL

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 7.—A well-dressed man, thought to be John J. Evans of Robbinsdale, Minn., died early today in a cell in the police station. He was arrested last night charged with drunkenness. When called this morning for exercise in the corridor, he appeared dazed and a physician was called. The man died before the doctor arrived. Coroner Seashore will conduct an investigation to learn whether the man died of poison.

MARKED BILLS CLUE FALSE

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Nov. 7.—The police admit that despite the fact that John Bozyk had marked bills in his possession when he was taken into custody, he is not one of the members of the gang that recently robbed the Bank of Montreal here of $258,000. Bozyk explained to the detectives that he got the money—amounting to more than $4,000—from a youth named George Lavery who said he found it in a ravine near here a few days after the robbery.

IS FASCINATED BY GRIM REAPER

Mrs. Vermilya Said to Take Ghoulish Delight in All that Pertained to Death

LOOKS LIKE BELLE GUNNESS

Either Most Fiendish Poisoner or Victim of Remarkable Chain of Circumstances

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—In the county jail hospital today lies Mrs. Louise Vermilya, either the most fiendish poisoner since the days of Catherine De Medici or the victim of an engulging chain of circumstances. Specifically charged with the murder by slow doses of arsenic, of Policeman Arthur Bissone, the police believe she has made away, in the same manner, with eight other persons, including three of her own children and her two husbands.

The police are baffled in their study of the woman's personality. When first suspected, she was reserved and wary. Evidently she exerted a remarkable influence over men—and yet she is neither young nor prepossessing. Police find her prototype in Mrs. Belle Gunness, the Laporte murderess. Like Gunness woman, Mrs. Vermilya is stout and florid. Like the proprietor of the Laporte murder farm, the woman now under arrest here, took a morbid and ghoulish delight in all that pertained to death, according to the police. In her flat, detectives say apparently the most cherished belonging was a big photograph of a well filled graveyard. They do not think it was preserved because of memory of departed relatives, but simply because of the owner's queer mental twist.

Still weak from the arsenic which she took on Saturday, either by mistake or with suicidal intent—the latter being the view of the police—Police Captain Harding has so far refrained from subjecting the prisoner to a detailed examination. She has retained as attorney Joseph Burres, who was counsel for Dr. Clemenson, in the last big poisoning case in Chicago.

If the woman is responsible for the nine deaths which have occurred in her home, she has exhibited a degree of cunning that has never been surpassed in criminal annals since Dr. Johann Hoch made away with nearly a score of his wives. Hoch carried arsenic in his fountain pen and knew the cumulative effects of that drug. He served his victims with a daily dose so that the symptoms of the poisoning were not clear and they died apparently after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Vermilya, according to police theory improved on Dr. Hoch and used a pepper box. The police believe Mrs. Vermilya attended the Hoch trial and took advantage of the information obtained there as to poisoning.

The bodies of three of those who died in the "death flat" of Mrs. Vermilya have already been exhumed, and the viscera subjected to chemical analysis. Preparations are now being made to disinter the bodies of Cora and Florence Brinkamp, Mrs. Vermilya's own daughters by a former marriage.

May Be Demented

One rare type of dementia manifests itself by exactly these hideous symptoms—an unnatural or abnormal attraction toward the dead. It is necrophilia. Coroner Hoffman stated today that he had ordered an examination of the woman by several physicians to determine whether in their opinion she was suffering from this disease. If they find her so afflicted, the coroner said he would ask state attorneys to examine her with a view to commitment to the asylum for the criminal insane.

The coroner said that if the woman was a necrophiliac, she could not legally be held accountable for her alleged poisonings. If, on the other hand, Mrs. Vermilya is not found a victim, to the strange mental malady, she will be held for trial, to answer for the mysterious deaths of her friends and relatives.

TWO MEN HIT BY DRUNKEN MAN

Herman Schultz and Robt. Bartschenfeld Alleged to Have Been Attacked

Herman L. Schultz, 913 South Second street, and Robert Bartschenfeld, 411 South Third street, both have their faces somewhat disfigured today as a result of an alleged assault made upon them by a man by the name of Charles Bard shortly after midnight last night.

Schultz and Bartschenfeld claim they were walking home about midnight and when they came to the corner of Fourth and Ferry streets a man who was standing on the sidewalk, is said to have hit Schultz a blow on the left eye with his fist. Schultz was taken by surprise and was knocked down. Bartschenfeld immediately came to Schultz's rescue, whereupon Bard, it is claimed, drew a knife. He is said to have cut through Schultz's two coats but the blade did not enter his arm. Bartschenfeld, however, did not escape so luckily for he received a bad cut on the cheek. Bard made his escape.

The police were notified and Captain Dugan captured Bard shortly afterwards. The police state that Bard was drunk.

Bard was taken into court this morning but the case was adjourned until Friday.

Andrew Boyd intends to leave soon for Winter, Wis., where he and a party from Menominee, Rock Island and Chetek will go deer hunting for several weeks. CHARGES AGAINST LODGE OFFICIAL

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 7.—Mrs. Emma B. Manchester of Omaha, supreme guardian of the Woodmen Circle, auxiliary to the Woodmen of the World, one of the largest fraternal insurance orders, is severely criticised in a joint report made public today by Auditor of State Barton of Nebraska, and Auditor of State Blakeley of Iowa. The two state officers relate that, after a prolonged investigation into the affairs of the Woodmen Circle, they find that Mrs. Manchester made use of arbitrary powers, that she violated the laws of the order and expended funds in an extravagant manner.

Their investigation followed charges filed against Mrs. Manchester at the recent supreme session of the Woodmen Circle in Rochester, N. Y., at which time she was re-elected to her position at the head of the order.

FREE BRIDGE FUND RETURNED TODAY

Secretary of the free bridge committee, Charles Gesell, is today returning the retail merchants' share of the $8,500 fund raised to improve the La Crosse road in case the La Crosse wagon bridge was made free by the council.

At a meeting of several of the merchants held at the La Crosse club this morning, it was decided to return the money.

While they refused to discuss plans for the future, word was given out that the fight for a free bridge has not been abandoned.

A big meeting of the La Crosse commandery of the Knight Templars is to be held in the Masonic temple, eighth and Main streets, today. Knights Templars from Viroqua, Winona, Sparta and other places will attend the meeting.

MACVEAGH OPPOSES 'HOLDING COMPANIES'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—His unalterable opposition to the New York scheme whereby national banks propose to hold the stocks of other banks through the medium of a "holding company," was announced by Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh here today.

The secretary declared that to permit such a system was to invite the concentration of the banking power of the country into the hands of a few men. This the American public would not tolerate, he said.

The Aldrich plan for currency reform must be modified in many respects, declared the secretary, before he will give it his approval.

MANUFACTURER IS KILLED

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 7.—W. A. Dixon, a cigar manufacturer, was stepping into the elevator in the Ash-down block last night when the man in charge failed to stop on a level with the floor. Dixon attempted to get into the space left between the elevator and the floor but slipped and fell four stories to the basement. His body was crushed. He was one of the largest manufacturers in the west and had been connected with the trade for twenty years. He was worth $250,000.

TAFT HOBNOBS WITH GOV. HARMON

President Votes Cox Ballot in Cincinnati; Democrats Confident of Victory

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 7.—President Taft today hobnobbed with Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio, who may be the choice of the democratic party to oppose the president in the election of 1912.

After the president had wrestled with the involved machinery of the Cincinnati municipal election and had marked nine ballots, and worked a voting machine in an effort to vote a straight republican ticket, he returned to his brother's house and there received the governor and his daughter, Mrs. Cassatt. The governor made quite a visit although it was purely social.

The president took seven minutes to mark his many ballots, and he did his voting under the fire of a battery of cameras, and surrounded by a big squad of newspaper men.

A luncheon with the Manufacturers' club, an address to the Society for the Judicial Settlement International Disputes, and a dinner with the Commercial club, will complete the president's stay in Cincinnati. Tonight he will receive the returns of the municipal election, one of the hottest political fights Cincinnati has ever seen.

The setting today shifted against the Cox ticket, and the democrats and their independent republican allies were confident of victory.

BIG FOUR ROAD ACCUSED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Complaint was filed with the interstate commerce commission today by the Western Traffic association alleging that the Big Four and several other railroads charge unreasonable rates on shipments of automobiles from Indianapolis, Ind., to San Francisco. The complainant says the roads charge three dollars per hundred pounds when $1.75 is a reasonable rate.

VOTE EACH FOR NEIGHBOR

BASIL, Ohio, Nov. 7.—The election situation in this village of 500 is a novel one. No one voter but knows what he will wake up tomorrow morning to discover that his neighbors have honored him by making him their mayor. The parties did not nominate candidates and the voters are writing in the name of their choice at the polls. No one hankers for the job, as the revenue derived therefrom is practically nothing.

EXAMINE CANDIDATES FOR SCHOOL POSITION

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—State Superintendent C. P. Cary is still investigating candidates for the new position of supervisor of industrial education. The position pays $4,000 a year.

Six new schools have been created in Wisconsin this year—three union schools, at Arbor Vitae, Livingston and Roberts; a district school at Redgranite, and township schools at Iron Belt and Gilmanston. In addition to these, Withee and Owen have voted to establish high schools.

The state board of examiners will hold its next meeting in Madison, December 26-28. All teachers in agriculture in high schools making application for special state aid on this subject must receive a special license for teaching it, such license to be granted by the state board of examiners. Graduation from a normal school or from a college does not qualify them for this special work. No state aid will be given unless the teacher is duly licensed.

PREDICTS LONGER SESSIONS OF SCHOOL

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—State Superintendent C. P. Cary predicts that within the next fifteen years schools will be in session continuously or at least eleven months of the year.

"I suppose," he said, "we will have schools in session practically all the time within fifteen years, with about four short vacations in the year. We may have school perhaps ten and one-half to eleven months. This will be arranged according to the convenience of those who attend. Some people find it easier to attend school in summer, others in winter, or at different times of the year."

CELEBRATE AHEAD OF TIME

BEAUTIFUL, LUSTROUS, HEAVY HAIR AND NO DANDRUFF OR ITCHY SCALP

Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine and just try this—stops falling hair at once.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a soreness and itching of the scalp, which is not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—when the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine tonight—now—anytime—will surely save your hair. Ten minutes after applying all the dandruff will disappear, all itching will cease and there will be no more falling hair. Millions of men and women use Knowlton's Danderine and they never have dandruff, itchy scalp or falling hair—they know that it keeps the scalp clean and healthy and makes the hair grow heavy, long and beautiful.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

BOARD MUST AGREE TO RECEIVE AID

Bulletin Issued by Highway Commission Gives Supervisors Work; Commission Must Approve

All plans for road and bridge improvement and all contracts for the same upon which the state aid fund is applied must be approved by the state highway commission according to Bulletin No. One issued by the state highway commission today.

The bulletin which contains all of the information in connection with the state aid fund for road improvements gives a list of the steps that must be taken by the members of the county board at the November session in order to receive state aid for 1912.

Following is the list of requirements:

1. Cause their system of prospective state highways to join with the system of adjoining counties.
 2. Cause the county clerk to file a copy of the county road map with the state highway commission and each town clerk.
 3. Determine the percentages which the county will pay of the cost of roads and bridges built in 1912 and 1913.
 4. Levy a tax to pay the county's share of the cost of all state aid improvements to be made in 1912.
 5. Levy a tax for the purchase or rental of machinery and tools needed to construct improvements contemplated in 1912.
 6. Levy a tax for the county road and bridge fund.
 7. Fix the salary of the county highway commissioner at some definite sum to be $600 per annum or more and provide for allowing his expenses in addition. Fix his bond, provide him with an office and such assistants as may be necessary and delegate necessary powers and authority to him.
 8. Provide for surveys, plans and specifications for all state aid highway improvements. If they wish the state highway commission to make such surveys, etc., they must request them to do so.
 9. Make adequate provision for the maintenance of state highways.
- The bulletin also states that the state aid allotment will not be paid to the county treasurer until the work upon which the money is to be applied is partly finished.

REVIEWING THE FLEET

"DUKE" MASCOT OF THE U.S.S. "DOLPHIN"

"Duke" the most popular mascot of the Atlantic fleet was shown with little less attention during the recent naval review in New York harbor than President Taft and Secretary of the Navy George von Meyer.

He was given a place of prominence to review the fleet which many New Yorkers would have gladly paid thousands of dollars to have. The picture shows "Duke" on the deck of the "Dolphin" reviewing the great armada as it passed out to sea on November 2nd.

A PAPER SMOKE-PIPE Can Be Seen in Use at the Big

Laurel Demonstration

At this store all this week. We are proving beyond any shadow of doubt that the Laurel is the most economical as well as the most efficient range on the market.

If you are interested in saving money in your kitchen, don't fail to see this demonstration. Do you know that in most ranges over half the heat generated by the fuel goes up the chimney? That means that you are paying just twice the fuel bills you would have to if you had a Laurel in the kitchen. We don't leave any room for doubt on this point.

We are using a paper smoke pipe in our demonstration this week, and we are keeping a much hotter fire in the range than you would ordinarily need in your kitchen.

Not only is the Laurel a fuel saver, but it is a perfect baker as well. We are baking the most delicious biscuit you ever ate in your life on the Laurel. Come in and have one with us, and enjoy a cup of good coffee.

PRISONER SHOWS MECHANICAL GENIUS

FORT DODGE, Iowa, Nov. 7.—The second jail delivery in two months was cleverly accomplished here last night by F. R. Lee, who was held for the Barnum store robberies.

Lee obtained a file, and broke away from the inner cage of the strongest cell. Then with mechanical genius he used a chair leg to twist the opposite cell bars, thus bending the heavy iron door down sufficiently from the top to allow his escape. With the chair leg he punched a hole in the ceiling.

When a former criminal escaped the court ordered a steel ceiling, but the supervisors neglected to rush the work.

Lee is a dangerous criminal with an Oklahoma penitentiary record.

WOMAN'S LIFE IS MENACED IN LETTER

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 7.—A letter threatening her life in the manner in which the men lost their lives in the explosion at the Times building in Los Angeles, Cal., last October, has been received by Mrs. G. W. Lutz, 439 Clinton avenue, wife of the pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist church. The fact became public yesterday.

The note, which was written in ink on a sheet torn carelessly from a blank book, was unsigned and profusely decorated with skulls and cross bones. The writer evidently was a woman. Mrs. Lutz received the threatening note the morning after she addressed the W. C. T. U. in the House of Hope Presbyterian church.

A Wise Watch-Word — "Wilburbuds"

And truly a watch-word is this name for chocolate in its daintiest conceivable form and flavor. Say "Wilburbuds" to your dealer, and he will know your demand is for those meltingly smooth embodiments of chocolate purity—

WILBUR'S CHOCOLATE BUDS

Say merely "Buds" and your dealer may think you're content with one of the many common kinds of chocolate sold in the shape of "Wilburbuds"—but lacking utterly the quality of the genuine.

FOR YOUR PROTECTION, Wilbur's Buds are put up in boxes—in four sizes: 10c., 25c., half-pound and one pound. If your dealer hasn't them, simply write us. We will send more than a pound box for a dollar—or a trial box for 10 cents.

LIFE IS A GAME SAYS MR. FAVILLE

Pastor Urges W. B. U. Students to Play Fairly, in Address Before College

REVISION OF RULES NEEDED

Calls Good Health Worth More than Money and Learning Combined

Rev. Henry Faville addressed the students of the Wisconsin Business University Friday. He was given a fine reception. He spoke in part as follows:

"I came to speak to you in a very simple way about some things that I have found in what we call the 'game of life,' for life is to all of us something of a game. I think it's a good game if it is well played; that there is much satisfaction in the playing of the game and getting the results of the game of life, so I speak to you of the game of life as it has come to me in the three score and four years in which I have had to play this game, and the first suggestion I make you is that you, young men and young women, in your vocations in life, will play the game of life fair. No matter where you are or whatever you do, play it fair in all of life's relations. That means, of course, to be honest and truthful and do as you would be done by. It is not a question but what honesty is the best policy, although some men have said it may be the better policy, but it keeps a man poor. A man who has tried both will say that in the end at least it is best to play the game of life honestly and fair play is something we all love in all the relations of life.

"You have been in other games, football, baseball, and other games, and I am sure of this, if you realize after the game is over that you have not played the game fair, you have no great pleasure in thinking over that game. There may be a little triumphant feeling that you won, and yet have a deeper feeling that you did not win unless you played that game of baseball or football fair, and I am speaking now of the entire game of life, of the time when this game will be over with you, when you sit down and think over what has occurred in the past ten, twenty, or fifty years. I can say to you that it will be a real satisfaction to realize at that time that you have tried to be fair in all the game of life, fair to those with whom you are playing and fair in your relations to others. Especially true is this in the business world. As you sit down and think of the game that you have played, that it has been fair play as far as possible, I can say and be as sure of it as two and two make four, that you will say that it was the best thing for you to do. But there is another suggestion that I would like to make. I want you to play the game fair and then as you go on in life you will find it necessary to revise the rules of the game often and often in the relations of life. You know how that is with baseball and football games. It seems necessary to revise the rules. Now, that is only an illustration of all of life. There has to be a constant revision of the rules under which we play the game of life. We find it in my profession. We have to revise the rules in our church constantly. What is true in the part of life that I have been called is more true in the part of life in which you are to be actors in the future, because business men and women are constantly revising the rules of business. You can realize this in city, state and national life.

"You must remember to do that which must be done the first opportunity you have to do it.

"If you are going to make a success in life, you will have to care for your health. You young people do not realize how much good health will be worth more to you, perhaps, than money and learning combined.

"Have high ideals in all your life's work. Young men and women, you are the government of the future, so your ideals must be high. If you are to get out of the game of life all that is in it.

"Play the game of life fair, so that others will say, 'he has played fair in his relations to me.' Always be ready to revise the rules of the game, and do not put off until later what you ought to do now. If you do this, you will be winners in the game of life."

Remarkable Home-Made Wrinkle Remover

(From Modern Housekeeper)
A wrinkle removing preparation which acts powerfully and quickly may at the same time be entirely harmless, as has been amply demonstrated in the case of the famous saxonite solution. While acting so marvelously on wrinkles of every sort, the saxonite is really beneficial to the skin itself, giving the latter tone and improving its texture. In the case of baggy cheeks or chin, also, more than mere temporary results are obtained.

One ounce of pure powdered saxonite, securable at any drug-store, dissolved in a half pint witch-hazel, makes this most effectual wrinkle-remover. Use as a wash lotion. The effect is wonderful—and immediate.

LEE BROWNE DENIES HEARING OF JACKPOT

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Lee O'Neill Browne, democratic leader in the assembly that elected Lorimer United States senator, told the senatorial investigating committee today that he had never seen any corruption in the Illinois legislature, and had heard nothing about "jackpots" save in jokes.

Mrs. Charles Luke, widow of the former representative from Jerseyville, admitted that she was not certain whether her husband had $950 before or after he visited St. Louis, where it has been alleged the so-called jackpot was distributed. In the previous investigation, Mrs. Luke asserted that she thought it was prior to Luke's visit to St. Louis.

Former Judge John A. McNeil of Richland county, testified to seeing Representatives Blair and Tippipts together at Olney in July.

FAMOUS DICTAGRAPH CASE OPENS IN GARY

VALPARAISO, Ind., Nov. 7.—The famous "dictagraph cases," involving graft charges against Mayor Thomas E. Knott and other city officials of Gary, Ind., were called for trial here yesterday, before Special Judge Vernon Van Fleet. C. M. Williston, city engineer of Gary, was the first witness. It was the belief of counsel at the opening of the case that at least three days will be occupied in securing a jury.

C. B. Dean, the prosecuting witness, was today arrested at Hammond, Ind., on a warrant sworn out by several of the accused city officials, charging Dean with perjury. Dean claims to have dictagraph records to support his allegation that the city officials let a heating franchise to him after "holding out for a sum."

The new ice cold container—called—the Sealshipt—containing delicious, fresh, raw Sealshipt Oysters. Large size 1 gallon, enough for a large family.

Of the thousands of miles of sea coast only a few are suited to oyster raising.

A few miles along the North Atlantic coast, a few stretches in the protected waters of Long Island Sound and the Great South Bay, a tract in the Chesapeake Bay and some acreage in the Gulf of Mexico—these are the only places in which oysters are grown.

The choicest oysters come from the Great South Bay, Greenport, Narragansett Bay and other points on the North Atlantic Coast.

Of these oyster lands the Sealshipt System owns 46,000 acres—a gigantic farm—which grows the cream of American oysters. The waters, and the oysters are always under the supervision of the famous Lederle laboratories—as a guarantee of purity.

Yet all of this would mean nothing to you except for the fact that the same Sealshipt system has perfected a means of placing these oysters in your ice box with all of the freshness, purity and delicate sea flavor saved.

(The variety stamped on top of the Sealshipt is your guarantee of the particular kind of oyster you prefer)

FOGLER LEADING BICYCLE RACE

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 7.—The strongest sprinters in the six-day bicycle race at the Seventy-fourth regiment armory, predicted today that they would lose somebody before the race had run half its length, but they were not prepared to say which teams were the ones that might be expected to fall. Certainly none cracked last night in the hottest competition.

Punctures were frequent during the race, and a few spills were caused by them, but barring a few scratches, none of the riders was seriously injured. The final mile sprint which closed the sport early today was won by Joe Fogler of Brooklyn, in 1:59; Menus Bedell, Long Island, second; Walter Demara, San Francisco, third.

Racing will be resumed at five o'clock this afternoon. Score at end of first day: Root-Fogler, 198-8; Bedell-Bedell, 198-8; Demara-Lawrence, 198-8; Clarke-Hill, 198-8; Jones-Jones, 198-8; Drobach-Pye, 198-8; Wells-Collins, 198-8; Palmer-Stein, 198-8; Carslake-Ryan, 198-8.

RULING FAVORS ROAD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The supreme court of the United States yesterday afternoon granted the motion of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railways for "maintenance of the status quo" in the rate controversy between the railways and the interstate commerce commission. The granting of the motion was made conditional upon the filing of a bond for $10,000 by the railways to cover claims made in case the order of the interstate commerce reducing the fare across the bridge connecting the two cities is declared valid by the commerce court where an appeal is now pending.

BADGERS MAY CUT IOWA UNIVERSITY

Pollock Declares Injury was Due to Dirty Playing by Iowan; Leg Is Fractured

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 7.—When Charlie Pollock was carried from the field on Saturday with a broken bone in his right leg, Wisconsin rooters saw the conference championship air castle, construction of which already was well under way here, go with him. Pollock was the main cog in Coach Richards' offense and was a strong defensive player. An X-ray examination of Pollock's leg disclosed a broken bone, just above the ankle, and it will be four weeks, according to doctors, before the Badger star will be able to walk without the aid of crutches.

Noves Bright will be groomed for Pollock's place at right halfback. Bright went in for Pollock on Saturday and played well. Alexander is another possibility for the vacant position, while Van Riper may be switched from the left side of the back field to act as Gillette's team mate.

Coach Richards returned from Minneapolis today greatly impressed with the strength of the Minnesota team.

Pollock Talks

Wisconsin may break with Iowa. It would not be surprising to the Badger rooters if the university athletic department should cut off Iowa from its calling list in the future as a result of the injury received by Halfback Pollock in Saturday's game.

The athletic authorities refused to state definitely whether or not such action would be taken, but it was generally rumored around the campus today that such a move was contemplated.

The students are firm in their conviction that the injury was not merely "one of the fortunes of football." They assert that the breaking of Pollock's ankle was the direct result of a deliberate effort by O'Brien, the big Iowa center, to "get him."

Pollock himself, at the Madison hospital today, declared that his ankle was "twisted" purposely after a play had stopped, and that the Hawkeyes' center was the one who did it. An X-ray examination showed that the bone was snapped off four inches above the ankle.

APOSTOLATE GOES TO EAU CLAIRE

After holding a forty hour devotion at the St. James church last week, the Apostolate Mission of the La Crosse diocese went to Eau Claire, where they started a two weeks' mission yesterday. Rev. Felix A. Byrne, who is the missionary-at-large for the local diocese, and Rev. P. D. Hayden are conducting the services. Rev. Byrne has a letter from Bishop James Schwebach with him, in which he is appointed for this work.

Priests of the La Crosse and other dioceses may call upon the mission and they are always ready to preach missions, retreats, first communion meditations, tridiums and forty hour devotions, while they also preach special sermons and are willing to do substitute work when not busy with missionary work.

Wherever they hold missions, a specialty of personal visitation work will be made at the pastor's discretion. The aim of the missionaries is to reach the small towns and rural districts where the people have little opportunity to attend meetings, and it is claimed that wonderful results have been attained.

JANITORS REQUEST HIGHER WAGES

"High Cost of Living" Is Assigned as Reason for More Salary at the Board Meeting

A committee composed of Messrs. Brown, Weimar and Weiss appeared before the board of education at the regular monthly meeting last evening, to represent the janitors of the public schools in their petition in which they asked that their salaries be increased ten per cent on account of the high prices of the necessities of life. After giving the petition due consideration and hearing the committee, the board voted to refer the matter to the president and the grounds and buildings committee for them to investigate and to report at the next meeting.

The committee representing the janitors of the schools said that they had held a meeting recently at which all but two of their number had been present. They declared that they were not dissatisfied with the salaries paid them but that they needed more because they could hardly get along on their pay because of the high prices now in vogue. After looking up the records it was found that the pay of the janitors was today $5.00 higher to the man than it was ten years ago.

The board decided that the shack on the Hamilton school grounds could not be moved away because it was so old, so they authorized the grounds and buildings committee to advertise for bids for the sale of the structure.

May Build School

Upon discussing the matter of building a schoolhouse in the southern part of the city so that the smaller children will not be forced to cross the Green Bay railroad tracks to reach the Hogan school, it was decided to instruct the grounds and buildings committee to investigate the matter and find out how many children would go to this building if one were constructed.

A law provides that all instructors who so desire should be granted leave of absence to attend the teachers' convention which is to be held in Milwaukee on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, so, upon a motion by Mr. Holway, the board voted to grant a leave of absence to every teacher in La Crosse who wishes to go to the conference.

More Attendance

Superintendent Benezet's monthly report showed that there was an increase in attendance of 200 more during October, 1911 than in October, 1910, and that the percentage of attendance was much better than a year ago. Although the tardiness during the last month was greater than in October, 1910, this was due to the fact that when the flying machine came here there was a misunderstanding as to the length of time given some of the pupils of the downtown schools to see the machine, as a consequence of which about 100 pupils were late that morning. The teachers' attendance was better during the past month than last year and the report showed that the schools are in excellent condition.

Miss Kosanda was engaged to teach in the schools at a salary of $55.00 per month until February 1. Miss Webber, who is ill, was granted a leave of absence until she has regained her health.

President Luening announced that the payroll of teachers for October amounted to $10,254.80. The finance committee reported that the expenses for the month were $3,644.32.

ROW IS STARTED OVER MAROON MAN

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—A fine young row is brewing in conference circles according to rumors flying around the Midway and the charge has been made that Scruby, star kicker on the Maroon eleven, is in danger of having his athletic career brought to a sudden termination.

The eligibility of Scruby has been questioned. The University of Wisconsin has come into possession of what is considered evidence which may prove damaging.

The grounds for questioning the standing of Scruby came from a letter which the Midway end wrote to someone at his home in Longmont, Cal., explaining that he was getting along at the University of Chicago in good shape. In this letter were sentences which, while not stating openly that he was being given financial assistance, gave the impression that he was securing help to meet his expenses in some way.

FIGHT GAME MAY OPEN AT KENOSHA

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—That the lid is to be pried off the boxing game in Kenosha, Wis., is the word which is whispered by members of the sporting fraternity here today, as a result of the visit of George Tully, the Kenosha promoter, here yesterday. Tully is said to be negotiating a match between Hugo Kelly and Knockout Brown.

His gun and hunting coat which were in the bottom of the boat, sank beneath the water, but were recovered by Mr. Holley yesterday, who succeeded in fishing them out. Mr. Holley is none the worse for his ducking, he declared today.

LA CROSSE BOY WINS HONOR AT THE "U"

"Tubby" Keeler, former star tackle on the La Crosse high school team, and now starring with the Badger freshmen squad, has gained the distinction of being elected president of the freshmen class. Keeler was one of three strong candidates, S. M. Morley, Madison, and D. R. Smith, Milwaukee, being strong contestants for the honor. Keeler, however, won out by a good margin.

The La Crosse lad is also carving out a name for himself on the gridiron, having shown remarkable ability against the regulars. It is predicted that he will make the varsity next year.

LIBRARY GROUNDS BEING BEAUTIFIED

The grounds at the public library are being beautified by the park commission, Japanese barberry and other kinds of ornamental shrubbery being planted there to fix up the place. When finished the library grounds will present a fine appearance with all the new shrubs artistically arranged. It is expected that the work will be completed within a few days' time.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 7.—Ten thousand bushels of wheat was spread along the Soo line tracks with the wreckage of nine cars from the center of an incoming freight train two miles west of Crystal station. A defective flange on the wheel of one of the cars was the cause of the wreck. No one was injured. The track is expected to be cleared in six hours.
